Going Home After Discharge

A Guide for Families After a Hospital or Rehabilitation Stay

Find the skilled care you need at home. Search local home health care providers, compare services, and contact providers directly, all in one place.

Independent Senior Care Directory | Free To Use | Families Contact Providers Directly

Returning home after a hospital stay can bring new questions. Longtermcarefinder.com helps families understand available support services, compare local providers, and connect directly with them.

Get Started in 3 Easy Steps

1 Visit longtermcarefinder.com

Start your search online at longtermcarefinder.com, or scan the QR code below.

2 Find local home health providers

Explore providers offering skilled nursing, therapy, and other home health services.

3 Contact home health providers directly

Contact providers directly, ask questions, confirm availability, and arrange care.

NOTE If hospice care is recommended after discharge, families can search for local hospice care providers and contact them directly through longtermcarefinder.com.

Home Health Services You May Need

- Skilled Nursing Visits
- Physical, Occupational, or Speech Therapy
- Nutrition Counseling
- Home Health Aide Services
- Medical Social Worker

Questions To Ask Care Providers

- Does this provider accept my insurance?
- What nursing or therapy services are available?
- How quickly can care begin?
- How often will healthcare professionals visit?
- Who do I call after business hours?

Scan to Search Local Home Health Providers

Use the QR code to visit longtermcarefinder.com and begin searching for local home health care providers.

Search local providers | Compare care options | Contact providers directly

Important Information

Longtermcarefinder.com is an independent senior care directory and educational resource. It does not provide medical advice, care recommendations, or placement services. Individuals and families should work closely with healthcare professionals and providers to determine appropriate care services needed.

A free educational resource for patients, families, and discharge planning teams.